BIO

Emmy award-winning composer MARK MOTHERSBAUGH has written the music for more than 70 film and television projects. He first came to prominence in the music world in the 1970s as lead singer and keyboard player of the progressive new wave/rock band DEVO, who released a series of highly eclectic and satirical albums including "Are We Not Men?" and "Freedom of Choice."

In the mid-1980's, Mothersbaugh began to write music for commercials where he received a Clio award for his work. He then went on to composing music for numerous television projects including the memorable theme song and underscore for "Pee-Wee's Playhouse." He then scored the popular children's series "Rugrats." He also wrote the music for the hugely successful "The Rugrats Movie."

In 1996, Mothersbaugh met Wes Anderson and scored the filmmaker's critically acclaimed "Bottle Rocket." He wrote the music for Anderson's "Rushmore" starring Bill Murray and "The Royal Tenenbaums" starring Gene Hackman, Gwyneth Paltrow, Anjelica Huston and Owen Wilson. "The Life Aquatic With Steve Zissou" marks Mothersbaugh's fourth collaboration with Anderson.

Mothersbaugh's other feature film credits include Catherine Hardwicke's "Thirteen" starring Evan Rachel Wood and Holly Hunter, Joe and Anthony Russo's "Welcome to Collinwood" starring George Clooney, "Happy Gilmore" starring Adam Sandler, "200 Cigarettes" and "The New Age" from director Michael Tolkin and producer Oliver Stone, among others.

He recently wrote the music for Hardwicke's upcoming film "Lords of Dogtown" starring and the comedy "The Ringer" directed by Barry Blaustein and produced by the Farrelly Brothers. He composes the music for NBC's dramatic series "LAX".

Mothersbaugh has been nominated for numerous Emmy awards and is the recipient of BMI's distinguished Richard Kirk Lifetime Achievement Award.

In 1990, he founded Mutato Muzika, a recording studio and music production company based in Los Angeles.

Mothersbaugh is a world-renowned artist who cites Andy Warhol as inspiration. His paintings and drawings have been shown in galleries around the world. He's a visual artist as well, and has designed numerous video games.

He continues to perform with DEVO, which has had resurgence in recent years.

The group has played concerts across the country including Central Park in New York last summer. Mothersbaugh was born in Ohio and studied at Kent State University.
